

valley storytellers project

INVITES YOU TO A PUBLIC READING OF 3 NEW SHORT PLAYS
ABOUT HUNGER IN THE VALLEY

READ BY Valley
Storytellers

WRITTEN BY
Lee Herrick, Cindy Thao,
AND CO-WRITERS
Mai Der Vang
AND Anthony Cody

BASED ON
the stories shared by
Valley Residents

February 4, 2012
12:30 pm
at Sanger High School
Multipurpose Room
Sanger, California
THIS EVENT IS FREE.

Everyone has a story to tell about hunger—we all need to eat! In a place called the “bread basket” of the United States, a place of both bounty and need, what do people in the Central Valley hunger for? On January 14, a group of Valley residents shared their stories about hunger with each other, theater artists, and Valley writers.

Those stories provided the basis and inspiration for the 3 new plays that will be read on February 4. Come listen and support our Valley storytellers and writers as they share these new works!

THIS EVENT WAS MADE POSSIBLE BY a grant from the Community Education and Leadership Fund through the Fresno Regional Foundation and the support of Cornerstone Theater Company.

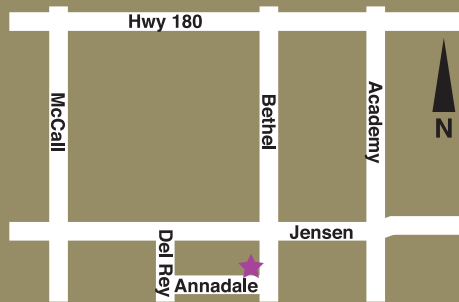

THIS EVENT IS CO-SPONSORED BY Valley Public Radio/FM89.

COORDINATED BY Nikiko Masumoto and Cornerstone Theater Company.

THANK YOU to all of the Valley storytellers who gave the inspiration for these new plays!

FOR MORE INFORMATION PLEASE CONTACT
Nikiko Masumoto at nikmasu@gmail.com or (559) 346-9319.

February 4, 2012
12:30 pm
FREE EVENT
Sanger High School
Multipurpose Room

valley
storytellers project

THIS EVENT IS CO-SPONSORED BY

SPECIAL THANKS TO Atlanta Ad Graphics AND
Tommy Truong of t3design

We hope to make the Valley Storytellers Project an on-going community-based event throughout the Valley. If you would like to contribute to this work please contact Nikiko Masumoto. We are always looking for partners to work with, a suggestion for the next location of the VSP, and funding. Thank you!